Ludwick Marishane – “Success is the ability to pursue your own challenge, to focus only on that challenge.”

Award-winning social student entrepreneur Ludwick Marishane is the founder and managing director of Headboy Industries Inc., after having invented DryBath® at the age of 17. He holds a Bachelor of Business Science, majoring in Finance and Accounting at the University of Cape Town.

Ludwick Marishane is the youngest patent holder in South Africa. With the protests happening in South Africa Ludwick’s success is an important reminder of the power of education which the students of this country are fighting to receive. He is one
