Thulani Madondo is the dynamic co-founder and executive director of the Kliptown Youth Programme (KYP) in Soweto. As a local, Thulani knows first-hand how difficult it can be for youngsters to stay in school and gain an education. KYP provides tutoring, after-school activities and daily meals to hundreds of children in the area. His efforts have garnered recognition from all over the world, including a 2013 CNN Hero award.
